This week, we're highlighting the Eatwell Guide, a straightforward and effective visual tool designed to help make healthier and more sustainable food choices. This infographic illustrates the five main food groups and the proportions they should ideally make up of our daily diet. From the vital 5-a-day portions of fruit and vegetables to prioritizing wholegrain or higher-fiber starchy carbohydrates, the guide offers a clear roadmap. We hope this guide serves as a valuable resource for planning family meals at home, ensuring everyone gets the right balance of nutrients to support a healthy and active lifestyle.
